PREAMBLE

THE PARTIES DECLARE AS FOLLOWS:

- A) The Supplier's mission is to provide an Internet connection and / or VoIP telephony service, if chosen by Subscriber and available.
B) The Subscriber is a person wishing access to the Internet and / or VoIP using the technological means made available by the Supplier.
C) The purpose of these is to establish the obligations and responsibilities related to the provision of the Provider's services, namely the Internet and / or VoIP (the Services).
By accessing the Services, the Subscriber and any other person authorized to use the Services agrees to be bound by the terms and conditions set out below.

FOR THESE PURPOSES, THE PARTIES AGREE AS FOLLOWS:

1. GENERAL PROVISIONS AND INTERPRETATION

To simplify the text, the general and interpretative provisions of the contract are found in Appendix A, which forms an integral part of the contract.

2. SERVICE PROVISION (SUBSCRIPTION)

Subject to payment by the Subscriber of the monthly recurring charges (rates) and all other charges as per the terms of the Agreement, the Supplier undertakes to provide the Subscriber with unlimited time access to the Internet during any the duration of the contract. "Unlimited" connection time access means that the Subscriber benefits from unlimited access, and does not mean that the connection will be permanent or uninterrupted.

3. COUNTERPART

3.1. Prices

The Subscriber agrees to pay monthly, quarterly or annually according to the agreement the sum corresponding to the subscription chosen in the table plus applicable taxes as well as the costs of renting the Equipment mentioned with the subscription chosen (if corresponding). This periodic monthly, quarterly or annual fee is payable in advance on the first day of each month, quarter or year in order to benefit from access to the Internet during the period during which the withdrawal is made. Additional variable costs depending on the chosen subscription will be charged for each GBs started in excess of consumption of the chosen monthly plan. Overage costs will be charged to the following month's account.

In addition, for wireless Internet, the subscriber must pay a sum of two hundred dollars ($ 200), plus taxes, when signing this contract for the installation costs of the Equipment. (Price subject to change if the installation is considered out of standard). See website for wireless internet at <http://acces.com/en/wireless-broadband/> for all details.

4. TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF PAYMENT

4.1. Credit Check

The Subscriber expressly agrees and authorizes the Supplier to check his credit history at any time and to record the results of these verifications in his client file.

4.2. Modalities

Subscriber agrees to pay the total amount due hereunder (including applicable fees and taxes) by direct withdrawal to his bank account, by credit card accepted by the Supplier (Visa, Master Card). If the Subscriber chooses the direct withdrawal payment option, the Subscriber agrees to complete and sign Schedule B entitled "PAYOR'S PAD AGREEMENT" which forms an integral part of the Contract. It shall also ensure that any changes to the information appearing in the authorization are promptly transmitted to the Provider to avoid any interruption in the electronic transfer of funds (ETF). If the credit card payment option is chosen, the Subscriber will have to give the Supplier or enter himself in the billing portal the information of his card number, expiry date, name on the card and code. security. Before the expiration of the card, the Subscriber must update his new data before the billing cycle.

4.3. Arrears

Any amount outstanding after the due date will bear interest at the monthly rate of 2% calculated and compounded monthly (ie 26.82% per annum). An administration fee of twenty-five dollars ($ 25) will be charged for any account remaining outstanding. If the Subscriber's check is without funds or if a direct debit is refused, additional fees corresponding to the fees invoiced for this purpose to the Supplier by the financial institution will also be charged to the Subscriber. Any partial payment will be used to settle, first, accrued interest and the oldest overdue sums. Any check or money order bearing the mention "full payment" will be accepted and cashed without the Supplier waiving, in any way, its right to recover other amounts due, notwithstanding the qualification of the payment. Any outstanding account justifies the Supplier, without further notice, suspending the Services whose access to the Internet to the Subscriber. The Subscriber can be redirected to a payment page to pay the sums due and once payment by credit card (Visa, Master Card), the subscriber will be reconnected.

Once the payment of overdue amounts has been made, if the Subscriber wishes to be reconnected, connection charges may apply in certain cases if this requires the visit of a technician. The amount will vary according to the distance, the complexity of the connection and can not exceed the cost of a new installation (see 3.1).

4.4. Recovery

In the event that the Supplier retains the services of a collection agency or a lawyer in order to recover the sums owed by the Subscriber, the costs thus paid by the Supplier, including the professional fees and legal costs, will be charged in full. to the Subscriber and at the same time recover from the latter.

4.5. Invoice statement

At the Subscriber's request, a statement showing the total amount to be paid as well as the taxes and any changes made since the last statement, such as payments, credits and any other fees charged to the latter will be sent electronically to the Subscriber's Email Address.

5. MODIFICATIONS

The Supplier may modify, at any time and without the consent or authorization of the Subscriber, the present contract, including the applicable rates and other charges or modify any of its components. The Provider will notify the Subscriber of these changes by email to the email address provided by the Subscriber or by posting them at www.acces.com. The fact that the Subscriber continues to use the Service will be considered acceptance of the changes. If the Subscriber does not accept the modifications made, he must immediately terminate his subscription to the Service by sending the Supplier a written notice to that effect.

6. ATTESTATION OF SUBSCRIBER

6.1. Basic knowledge

The Subscriber acknowledges having some knowledge of the Internet, its operation, performance and the possibilities offered by the Internet. He is informed that his messages may be intercepted and read by third parties without his knowledge, that a person with access to the Internet may cause harm, incur costs and incur obligations while connected to the Network, that the content and certain products or services available with or through the Service may be offensive or offensive or not in compliance with applicable laws. By using the Service, the Subscriber accepts full responsibility and the risks inherent in accessing the content, products or services, their use and the use of the Internet.

7. SUBSCRIBER'S OBLIGATIONS

7.1. Basic equipment of the Subscriber

The Subscriber is responsible for having all the necessary equipment for the connection to the Internet, with the exception of Supplier-owned Equipment, and for ensuring that the computer system meets the minimum requirements for access to the Internet. From time to time, the minimum configuration requirements in particular may change and in such event, the Subscriber must make changes to its computer system or terminate these in accordance with the terms of termination.

The Subscriber is responsible for the use and compatibility of equipment, software, services or any other material not provided by the Supplier with this Service, the Supplier declines all responsibility in this respect.

7.2. Ownership and protection of the Equipment

Equipment provided hereunder shall remain the property of the Supplier, however, the Subscriber shall be solely responsible for it. It must protect the Supplier's Equipment against damage, tampering or damage and shall not allow any person, other than a Supplier representative, to perform any work or manipulation on this Equipment. The Subscriber shall reimburse the Supplier for the full cost of repairing or replacing lost, stolen, damaged, unreturned, hypothecated, sold, rented, assigned or transferred equipment in whole or in part.

7.3. Network Security

The Subscriber is responsible for putting in place the material and technical constraints to prevent the irregular use of his / her access to the Internet and to supervise it. In particular, he must ensure the protection of his IP address and passwords. The Subscriber must use the router / modem provided by the Provider and if he wishes to install his own router, the Subscriber must connect it to the Provider's router / modem. Under no circumstances will the Supplier be held responsible for any corrupted files or viruses that may affect the use of the Service. In addition, in order to ensure the security of the Network, the Subscriber is responsible for the protection of his computer systems connected to the Supplier's network. He shall also perform any action that the Supplier may request for this purpose. Any harm caused to the Network due to the Subscriber's failure to properly secure its computer system may result in the disconnection, suspension to the Internet or termination of the contract. See annex C. Rules of good conduct.

7.4. Intended use

The Subscriber undertakes to use his access to the Internet as a prudent and diligent person, in accordance with the rules of good conduct made known to him in Schedule C hereto. Subscriber agrees not to use the Service in a manner that is contrary to applicable laws and regulations, any breach that may result in the immediate termination of this Agreement or the disconnection or suspension of the Service used illegally. In particular, it is prohibited to display, transmit or distribute in any way information that constitutes a criminal offense, or that encourages conduct that constitutes a criminal offense, or that may give rise to civil liability proceedings, to use the Service in an unlawful manner or in violation of the Supplier's policies or in a manner that would in any way prevent other users from using or enjoying the Service or the Internet. The Subscriber assumes full responsibility for its acts or omissions, or those of anyone using its access to the Internet, including, but not limited to, liability for expenses incurred while making purchases or transactions using of the Service. Any connection made using the Subscriber Identification Element is deemed to have been made by him. The Subscriber agrees to indemnify and reimburse the Supplier for any expenses that it may be required to perform and arising from improper use of the Network and Equipment.

7.5. Not allowed

The Subscriber acknowledges that the Subscription is strictly personal. It undertakes not to redistribute, in whole or in part, the bandwidth giving it Internet access, in particular by hosting a server or by allowing shared access. Without limiting the foregoing, the Subscriber agrees not to use the Service and Equipment provided for the operation of an Internet Service Provisioning Business. The Subscriber can not maintain or set up any other Link with the Network. Similarly, no subnetwork (eg IP telephony) can be added to the Network by the Subscriber. No subnet support will be supported by the Provider.

7.6. Access to premises and collaboration in installation and maintenance

The Subscriber must collaborate in the installation of the Equipment and, if applicable, the antenna or the passage of the antenna wire to the interior of the building by promptly providing any information required by the Supplier, by granting priority to the installations and frequencies of the latter and providing, if necessary, a 110 volt electrical outlet stabilized close to the Equipment. In order to protect the Equipment from power fluctuations, the Subscriber must provide at his expense a voltage bar or a small UPS with AVR (Uninterruptible Power Supply with Voltage Regulator). Subscriber may incur costs if vendor equipment (eg router / modem) is damaged by power fluctuation.

The Subscriber must provide free access to the building where the Service is provided to the Supplier's duly authorized representatives for the purpose of installing, inspecting, maintaining, restoring, removing or disconnecting the Equipment for reasonable hours. Fees may be charged to the Subscriber if a visit by a technician is required to restore the Service and it is determined that the problem is not attributable to the Equipment owned by the Provider or the Network.

7.7. Disclosure

The Subscriber must disclose to the Supplier any fact or important information concerning its legal or financial situation, which would have the effect of modifying its ability to honor the commitments contracted within the Contract or to disinterested the Supplier.

8. OBLIGATIONS OF SUPPLIER

8.1. Internet access

In the event of service interruption, the subscriber must contact Groupe-Acces technical support by email at support@acces.com or by phone at 1-866-530-7777, option 4 so that we can restore it as soon as possible. Don't forget to write the name of the subscriber in the subject and phone number to reach you.

The Supplier undertakes to use the best efforts to make available Internet connection seven days a week (7/7) and twenty-four hours a day (24/24), with the exception of consecutive maintenance periods, failures or alterations of the system. The Supplier does not warrant the uninterrupted use or operation of the Service and can not be held responsible for service interruptions, delays or malfunctions. The Service and the products provided by the Supplier, its directors, officers, employees, representatives, agents or suppliers are provided "as is" and "to the extent that they are available" without any warranties or conditions. Subscriber assumes all risks with respect to the availability, quality and performance of the Service or equipment provided hereunder. Groupe-Acces is not responsible for an internet service outage due to power outages related to Hydro Quebec's network. Neither service interruptions resulting from force majeure or other causes beyond its control. The Supplier will not be held responsible for any loss of data, it is the Subscriber's responsibility to make backup copies at all times.

8.2. Performance level

Because throughput speeds are dependent on the bottlenecks that exist over the vast network architecture of the Internet, the Provider in no way guarantees the maximum performance (speed) of the Service or changes in response time. Subscriber's requests and can not be held responsible.

8.3. Delivery and installation of the Equipment

The delivery, installation and setup of the Equipment shall be carried out by the Supplier on the day agreed with the Subscriber. The Supplier shall not be held liable for any claim, damage, loss or expense, including but not limited to any lost wages or missed work day. If an installation appointment is missed, whether by the Supplier or a third-party installer, it will be rescheduled at a convenient time between the two parties. If the necessary work for the installation of the Equipment and the setting up of the Internet Link is too important, the Supplier may cancel the Contract, upon written notice to the Subscriber, without any penalty. The Supplier must reimburse the Subscriber for the amounts received, after having taken back the Equipment already installed, if applicable. At no time may the Supplier guarantee that the prospective Subscriber will have the Service. Some locations and geographical points may not have known Service (eg. Internet), despite all the goodwill of the Supplier.

8.4. Maintenance of the Subscriber Equipment

The Supplier undertakes to keep the Equipment in good working order. As it deems necessary, tests may be performed to diagnose the state of wear of the Equipment. Depending on the needs of maintenance or repair, visits will be made on working days (Monday to Friday, except holidays) between 8:30 and 17 hours. The frequency of these visits is determined by the Supplier. At any time, the Supplier can perform remote monitoring analysis. For this, contact Technical Support at 1-866-530-7777, Option 4 or support@acces.com.

8.5. Network maintenance

In the context of maintenance and network improvement operations for which the Supplier provides for an exceptional interruption of the service, the latter will notify the Subscriber of this interruption twenty-four (24) hours in advance by e-mail to the email address provided by the Subscriber and / or posting the interruption on his website at www.acces.com or on a Twitter or Facebook social network account.

8.6. Identification elements (IP addresses)

The Supplier remains the owner of any IP address that it assigns to the Subscriber. IP addresses may be changed at any time and without notice, at the discretion of the Provider or whenever the Subscriber's Equipment or computer is powered off. In no way the Supplier shall be liable for any claims, damages, losses or expenses arising from any change of IP address.

8.7. Documentation

At the Subscriber's request, the Supplier will provide a start-up guide.

8.8. Protection of personal information

As part of its service provision, it is necessary for the Provider to obtain personal information from the Subscriber. Unless the Subscriber expressly agrees or the disclosure is required by law, all the information that the Supplier has about the Subscriber (except the name, address, and the e-mail address) are confidential and may not be disclosed to any other party than the Subscriber or its agent and a firm whose services are retained by the Provider to collect an overdue account, provided that the information are required and used only for this purpose.

9. WARRANTY AND LIMITATIONS OF LIABILITY

9.1. Limited warranty

The Supplier, its directors, officers, employees, representatives, agents or suppliers do not guarantee that the data or files sent or received will be without being corrupted or transmitted within a reasonable time, that these data or files will not be intercepted, that other users will not have access to the Subscriber's computer equipment, or that the content or other items accessible by the Service will not contain any viruses or other harmful elements or that they will not be stored in caches with various transit sites on the Internet.

Also, the Supplier, its directors, officers, employees, representatives, agents or suppliers do not guarantee or guarantee the confidentiality of users of the Service and assume no responsibility in this regard. It is recommended to the Subscriber not to use the Service for the transmission of confidential data.

9.2. Limitation of liability

The Supplier disclaims all warranties, express or implied, with respect to the services provided to the Subscriber. Except in the case of gross negligence or intentional fault, the Supplier, its directors, officers, employees, representatives, agents or suppliers are not liable for any damages, costs and financial loss such as the breakage or loss of data, that the Subscriber or any user of the Service may suffer, directly or indirectly, for any reason whatsoever, including due to any interruption or malfunction of access to the Internet. Without limiting the foregoing, the Supplier, its directors, officers, employees, representatives, agents or suppliers are not liable for material damage (including that relating to software) resulting from a change to the software configuration, a computer virus, the content, the use, the validity or the quality of the services provided via the Internet, an Internet network failure, the loss or destruction of data by intrusion or otherwise or the unauthorized interception of communications or delays in their transmission or receipt. Likewise, they are in no way responsible to the Subscriber or third parties for any loss or expense (including attorneys' fees) relating to any allegation, claim, suit or other proceeding based on the claim that the use of the Service by the Subscriber or a third party violates the intellectual property rights or contractual rights of third parties. The Supplier, its directors, officers, employees, agents, or suppliers can not be held liable for any content that is offensive or offensive to certain information circulating on the Internet or that does not comply with applicable laws; network on which the Supplier, its directors, officers, employees, representatives, agents or suppliers have no control. In addition, the Supplier, its directors, officers, employees, representatives, agents or suppliers are not responsible for any act or omission of a telecommunications company whose facilities serve to establish links to points that the Supplier does not serve directly, any defamation or infringement arising from the material transmitted or received through the Supplier's facilities, any infringement of patents arising from the association or use of the facilities provided by the Subscriber and the facilities of the Supplier. Should the Supplier, its directors, officers, employees, representatives, agents or suppliers nevertheless be found liable for any loss or damage whatsoever, its liability shall be limited to crediting the Subscriber an equal sum the monthly periodic fee paid by the Subscriber for the Service during the three (3) months preceding the fault. The rates and charges provided herein are based on the Supplier's limited liability.

10. SPECIAL PROVISIONS

10.1. Deadlines and shortages

The Equipment is installed for the Subscriber as soon as possible depending on manufacturer's availability. The Supplier can not in any way be held responsible for any damage caused as a result of a delay in delivery due to circumstances beyond its control. If it is impossible for the manufacturer to provide the Equipment, the Supplier may cancel the Contract by written notice to the Subscriber without penalty. The Supplier must reimburse the Subscriber for the sums received, if any. The Supplier may reserve the right, subject to certain conditions, to substitute certain devices for models with the same characteristics.

10.2. Insurance

The Subscriber must arrange to insure against fire, theft and vandalism the Equipment provided hereunder for an amount sufficient to ensure the replacement of such Equipment.

The Subscriber may purchase insurance with the Provider for a monthly fee which can be found on the website at <http://aces.com/en/wireless-broadband/>, which covers one (1) technician visit per year (if problem). The protection covers the technician's visit, his travel expense, a defect of the antenna or the wiring; software updates included. Not covered: natural disasters (lightning, thunder, hurricane, ...); Negligence of the customer.

10.3. Assignment of contract or transfer of Equipment

The Subscriber may not assign the present contract or transfer the Equipment without the prior written authorization of the Supplier or the Service will be deactivated. The Subscriber must promptly notify the Supplier, within a minimum period of five (5) business days, whether he wishes to transfer or otherwise transfer the present contract to another person. The Subscriber is deemed to be the recipient of the Service and Equipment and is responsible for all costs associated with the use of the Service and Equipment until such time as we receive such notice, together with the engagement of that new Subscriber (potential client) to respect each and every one of the provisions hereof. A transfer fee of seventy-five dollars ($ 75), plus taxes, will be charged to the new Subscriber's account.

10.4. Declaration

The parties expressly declare and recognize that the essential terms of the Contract have not been imposed by either of them, but instead have been freely discussed with each other. In addition, each party, after obtaining adequate explanations of the nature and extent of each of the essential provisions of the Contract and having taken notice of their scope, declares itself satisfied with their readable and understandable condition. Finally, each of the parties declares and acknowledges that each of the essential terms of the Agreement, including those imposing penalties or binding obligations, is reasonable and necessary to protect their respective interests. In consideration of the foregoing, each of the parties hereby expressly waives the right to invoke the invalidity of any provision of the Agreement on the ground that it is incomprehensible, illegible or unreasonable.

10.5. Arbitration

Any claim, dispute or dispute arising out of this Agreement shall be referred to arbitration. The Subscriber waives his right to sue or participate in a class action against the Supplier. If the Subscriber wishes to make a claim, a written notice of arbitration shall be given to the Supplier's address, for the attention of the General Manager. All claims that are the subject of an arbitration will be heard by an arbitrator in the Laurentides region, in accordance with the rules agreed upon by the Supplier and the Subscriber. If the Supplier and the Subscriber are unable to agree on these rules, the arbitration will be settled in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure and the Civil Code of Québec. Supplier and Subscriber will each be responsible for their own costs and will share the costs of the arbitration equally. The Provider is a member of the CRTC and its CCTS (Commission for Complaints for telecom-television Services).

11. END OF CONTRACT

11.1. Termination

The termination, in any case, does not have the effect of releasing the Subscriber from the obligations arising from this Contract which could have arisen before the effective date of the termination, in particular as regards the payment of the amounts due.

11.1.1. Without notice

The Supplier may, at any time and without notice, suspend or limit the Service or terminate the Contract, without prejudice to all of its rights and remedies, in any of the following cases:

- 11.1.1.1. if the Subscriber does not make proper use of the Service and Equipment,

11.1.1.5. if the Subscriber initiates proceedings under any laws relating to insolvency or bankruptcy or any proceedings under such laws are commenced against the Subscriber;

11.1.1.6. if the Subscriber does not respect the terms and obligations of the present, in particular if he makes a contrary use of the services put at his disposal by the Supplier;

11.1.1.7. if the Supplier ceases its activities.

11.1.2. With notice

The Subscriber may, at any time, if he is not in default, terminate the Agreement by thirty (30) days written notice to the Supplier. However, since the contract is a fixed term contract with an initial term of one (1) year, it will have to pay a penalty equal to the total monthly recurring charges from the last payment to the date of the end of contract UNLESS the new occupant of the place where the Service is rendered, agrees with the Supplier has complied with all and each of the provisions of the Contract.

11.2. Procedure at the end of the Contract

In the event that the Supplier decides to terminate the Contract or at the end of the Contract, any Supplier representative may, without notice or other formality, report to the building where the Service is provided to repossess the Equipment. In the absence of recovery of the Equipment, the Supplier shall be entitled, as compensation, to claim from the Subscriber the replacement value of the Equipment. Subscribers must mail the router / modem (at their own cost) to the Supplier at the following address: Groupe-Acces communications, 100 chemin du Mont-Castor, Sainte-Agathe-des-Monts, Qc., J8C 2Z8 otherwise Fees will be charged (see website at <http://acces.com/en/internet-without-fil/>).

If the Subscriber has rented the antenna, the latter may return it (at their cost) to the Supplier at the following address: Groupe-Acces communications, 100, chemin du Mont-Castor, Sainte-Agathe-des-Monts, Qc., J8C 2Z8. If the customer does not return the antenna, the subscriber will be charged pro-rata for the cost of the antenna displayed on the website at <http://acces.com/en/internet-without-fil/> minus the number of months and paid monthly.

A check of proper operation of the equipment (router / modem, antenna, ...) will be done and if non-functional, the corresponding costs will be charged to the Subscriber.

Any payment made by the Subscriber, prior to this termination, is not refundable and is considered to constitute the payment of a penalty in favor of the Supplier.

In the event of unilateral termination by the consumer, the compensation required by the merchant is the lesser of the following amounts: $ 50 plus tax or a sum representing not more than 10% of the price of the services provided for in the contract that have not been provided. For commercial accounts, the rule of less than $ 50 or 10% of the price of services does not exist. The business customer must honor their contract until the end of the year (12 months from the date of installation or renewal).

3. PRECEDENCE

The Contract constitutes the entire agreement between the parties to the exclusion of any other document signed by an authorized representative of the Supplier, concomitant who may have intervened, in the negotiations that preceded the execution. complete Contract.

4. JURISDICTION

4.1. Subjugation

This Agreement, its interpretation, performance, application, validity and effect are subject to the applicable laws in force in the Province of Quebec and in Canada that govern in whole or in part all of the provisions of this Agreement. contains.

4.2. Presumption

Any provision of this Agreement, which does not comply with the applicable laws, is presumed to be of no effect to the extent that it is prohibited by any of these laws.

4.3. Adaptation

If a provision of the Contract contravenes a law, it must be interpreted, as the case may be, to bring it into conformity with the law or, failing that, in the manner most likely to respect the intention of the parties without derogation from prescriptions of this law.

4.4. Continuation or cancellation

Where the Contract contains a prohibited provision, all other provisions of the Contract remain in force and continue to bind the parties unless the override relates to an essential and indivisible provision of the Contract.

5. GENERAL

5.1. Time

All deadlines indicated in the Contract are mandatory unless otherwise stated in the text. When compiling a delay, the following rules must apply:

The day that marks the starting point is not counted, but that of the deadline is;

Non-legal days, that is, Sundays and holidays identified in article 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure of Quebec, are counted; however, when the due date is not legal, the term or period is extended to the next following legal day; and The term "month", when used in the Contract, refers to calendar months. If the Contract indicates a specific date on the calendar and that date is a non-judicial day, then the maturity becomes the first legal day following the date indicated.

5.2. Plurality

All rights mentioned in the Agreement are cumulative and non-reciprocal. The waiver of the exercise of a right granted by one party to the other party to the Agreement shall never be construed as a waiver of the exercise of any other right hereby granted unless the text of a provision of the Contract does not indicate exceptionally the need for such a choice.

5.3. Canadian currencies

All sums of money provided for in the Contract refer to Canadian currency. In addition, unless otherwise indicated in the text, the sums of money specified in the Contract shall not be construed to include, in the amount stipulated, the Goods and Services Tax (GST), the Quebec sales tax (QST) and any other tax that may be imposed on this type of payment during the full term of the contract.

5.4. Gender and number

To the extent that the understanding of the text requires it, a word expressed with the masculine gender includes the feminine and vice versa; it is the same for a word expressing a number in that the singular includes the plural and vice versa.

Any sentence containing polyvalent words of this nature must be read, where the meaning of the text so requires, so as to accommodate the appropriate version of such a word with the grammatical changes necessary to give a logical meaning to the sentence. concerned.

5.5. Securities

The titles used in the Contract have no interpretative value; they serve only as an element of classification and identification of the provisions constituting the agreement between the parties.
